Linking voters and information @ your library™

At Markham Public Libraries (MPL), we believe that libraries play an essential role in linking voters to the information that they need to make informed choices. To assist Markham residents' participation in the electoral process, MPL has developed a one-stop online resource that provides voters with the latest election information and answers to frequently asked questions. Want to know who the candidates are? Need to know how to get onto the voters list? Need to know more about the issues or the electoral system? The MPL website provides easy access to information that will assist you on voting day.
